My favourite urban legend is...

That a swan can break your arm

The Bristol crocodile

Father Christmas

999 phone charging myth is an urban legend which claims that calling the police and fire services, then hanging up, charges mobile phone batteries

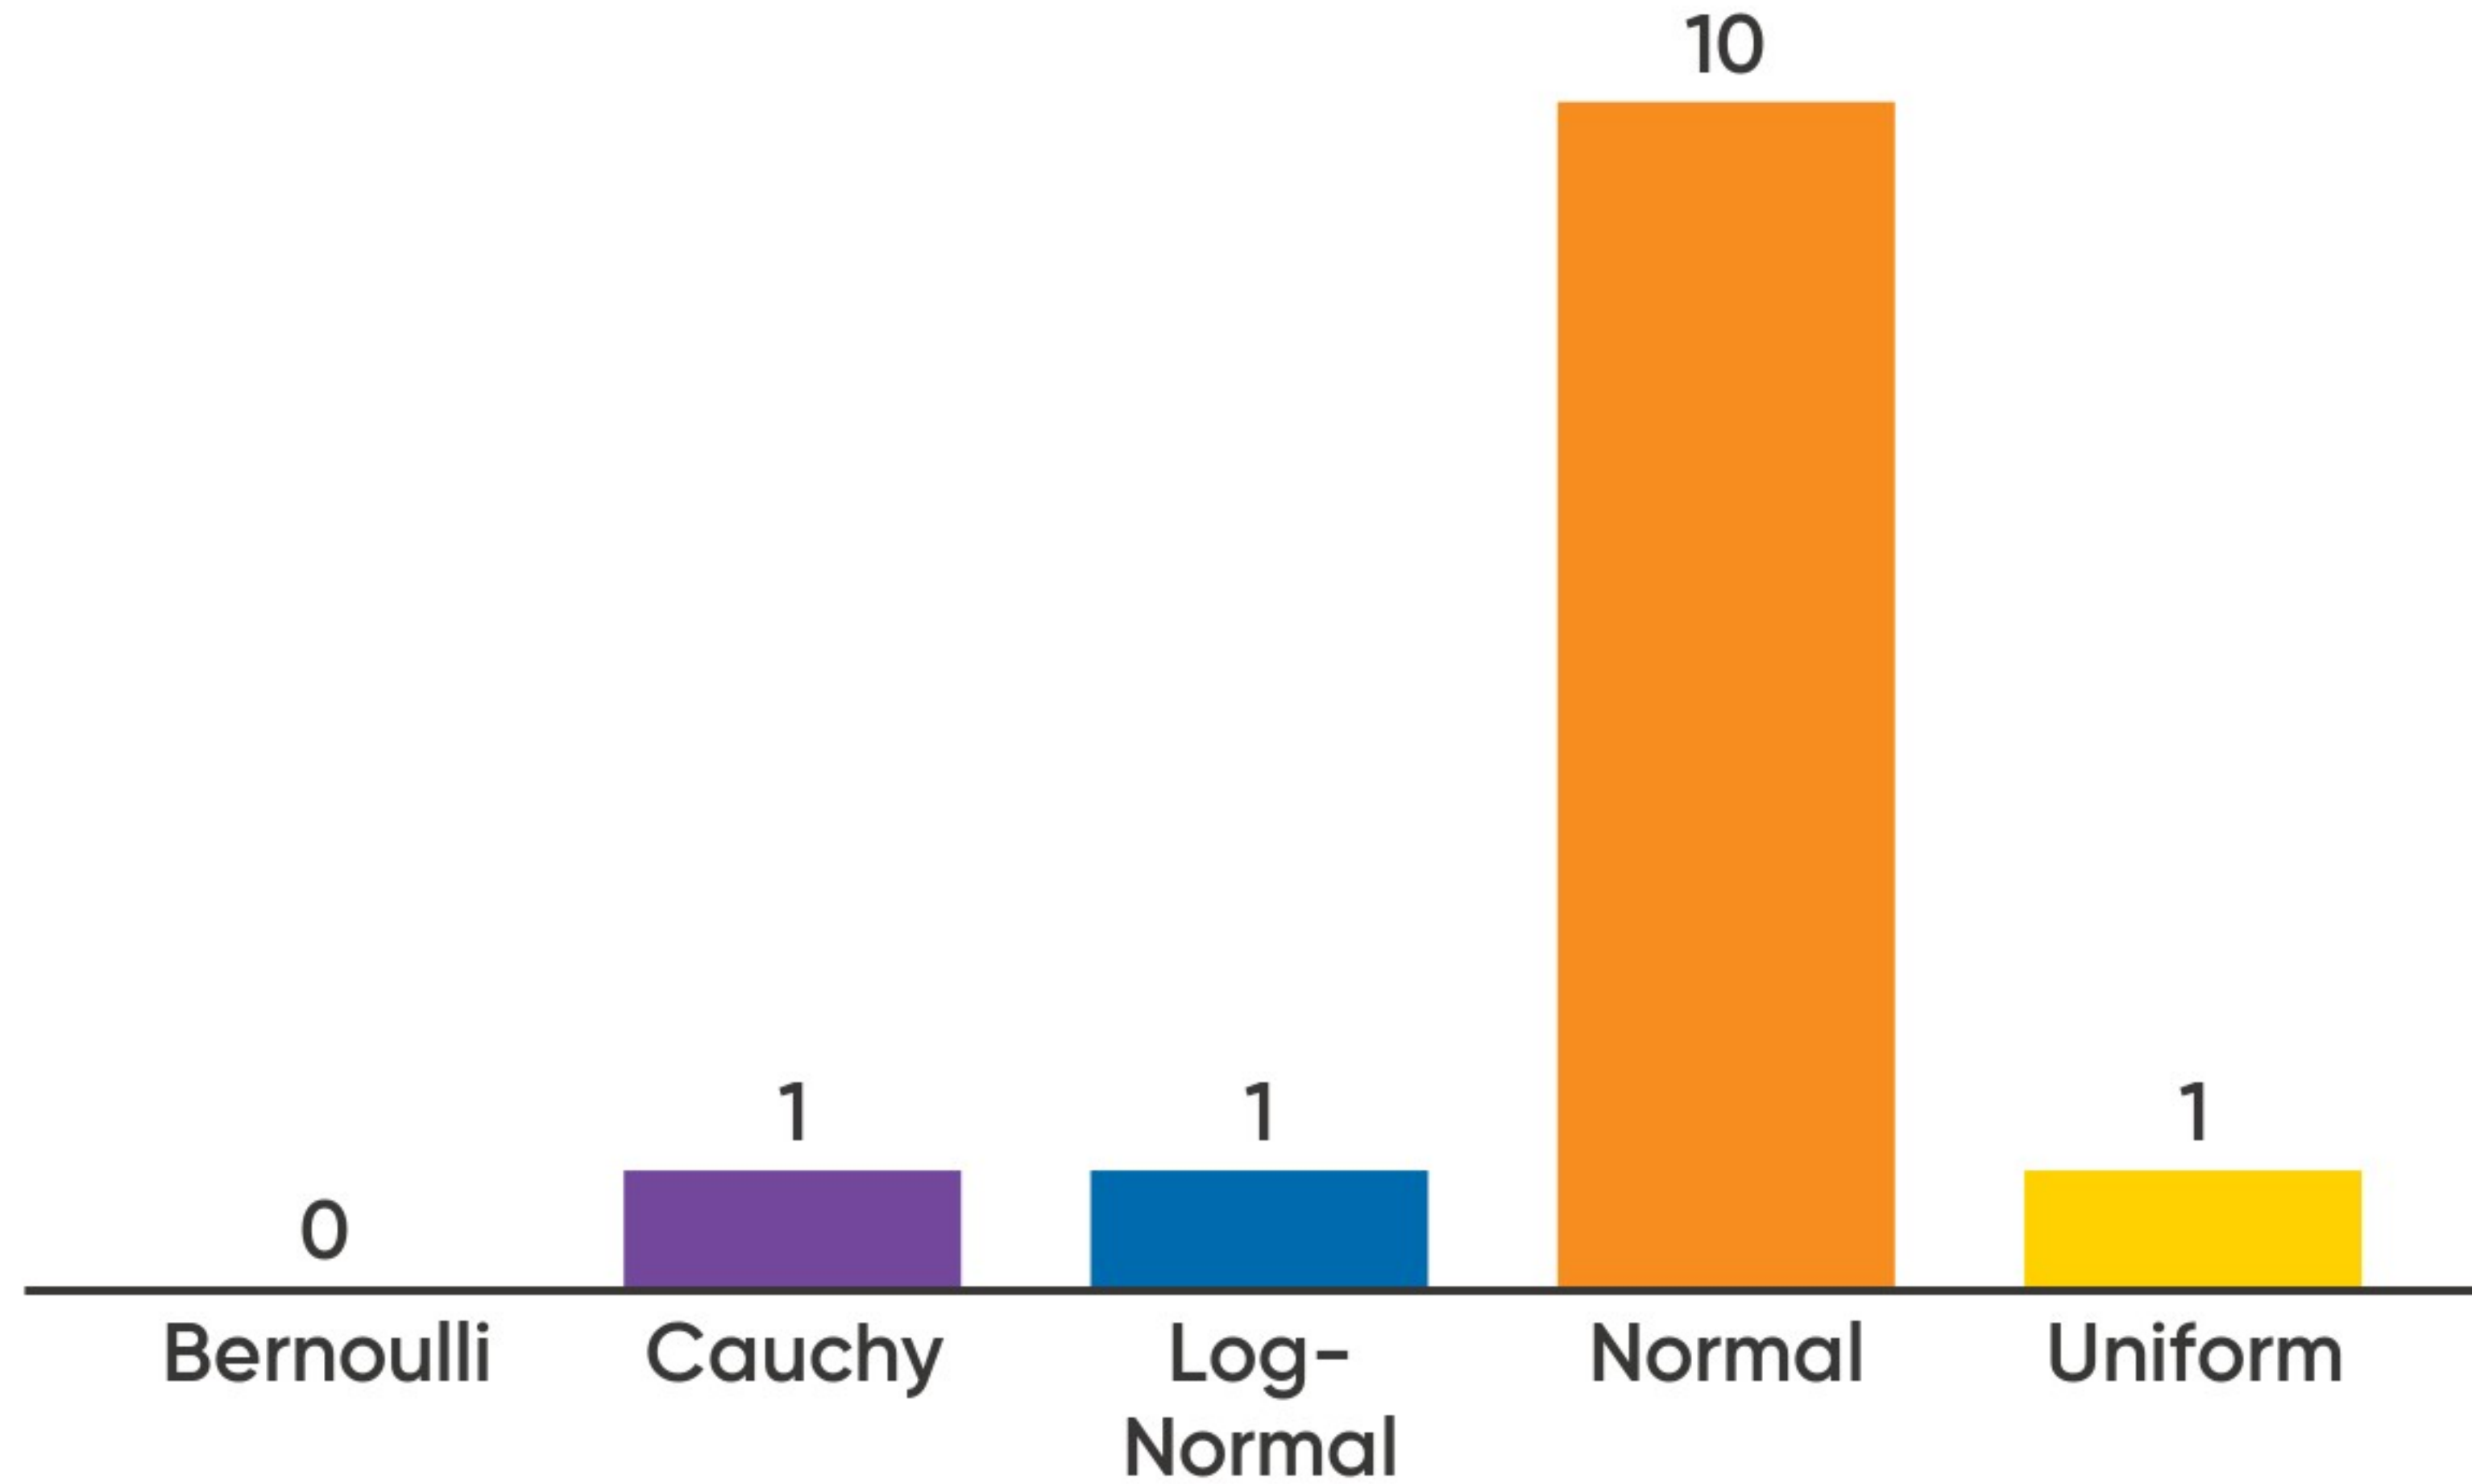

Loch Ness monster

You'll lose your thumbs if you don't hide them when walking past a graveyard

That one kid who was swinging on the back of their chair and cracked their head open (apparently every teacher knows one...)

If the wind blows your face will stay like that
